Thank you for coming!
The presentation will be shared – there are many hyperlinks for additional resources – please use chat for more questions
Stage 1: Essential In-Person

Stage 2: In-Person and Flex In-Person classes with projected classroom capacities of no more than 50 individuals. For Flex In-Person classes, the planned attendance schedule should permit no more than 50 individuals (including instructors and course assistants) to be present in-person at each meeting time.

Stage 3: This stage will expand in-person instruction to include all designated In-Person and Flex In-Person classes with projected classroom capacities of no more than 100 individuals. For Flex In-Person classes, the planned attendance schedule should permit no more than 100 individuals (including instructors and course assistants) to be present in person at each meeting time.

Note: Classes unable to meet the Stage 3 criteria, i.e., with projected classroom capacities of more than 100 individuals per class meeting, should be designated as Live Online or iCourses for the duration of the Spring 2021 semester.

Stages descriptions have been updated since Monday H/C/D memo
The update of the labels does not change the ask of categorizing the stages or the template. RCS will map the selections to the updated label.

IP = In-Person Format | FIP = Flex In-Person Format
Dear Heads, Chairs, Directors:

There has been an update to the way we are communicating the stages out to campus, to align more closely with the fall term’s communications on the instructional stages. See the updated text below. Note that this doesn’t change the plan, which will still be to start at the same manner as we are operating in now (i.e., in Stage 2), if pandemic conditions permitting.

This small adjustment does not change the request to categorize your planned In-Person and Flex In-Person classes.

The categories remain the same: classes that are essential In-person, those that would be in the under 50 stage with or without rotation, those under 100 stage with or without rotation, and the classes that need to transition format to Live Online or iCourses.

As a reminder, there will be a webinar today hosted by the Office of the Registrar - the details are below – the slides and recording will be available afterwards.

SP21 Class Stages & Formats
A session for instructors, class schedulers, and department leaders about the Spring 2021 class format and stage determinations. Will include representatives from the Office of Instruction & Assessment.
Date: Thursday, October 29th
Time: Noon, Arizona time
Zoom Link: https://arizona.zoom.us/j/82846711183

Thank you for your continued flexibility and dedication to creating a class schedule for the Spring term.

With thanks,

Lesi

Modified Stage definitions:
